Lewis Attempts to Escape.

Last evening, as is customary, the prisoners were let out into the jail yard, just before night, for an siring. N. P. Pierce, who ate'y called to Sheriff Bowers and told him faction. to attend to locking the cells while he ran had escaped. There he met several people who assured him that no one had climed the fence, so it was settled that he was still about the premises. The next move was to hunt him up, and it was discovered that the rone in the well was still vibrating.
